Sir:

Further to the Determination of Patent Term Adjustment mailed by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office on July 26, 2006, which incorrectly indicates a Patent Term Adjustment (PTA) of 610 days, and to the information from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office Patent Application Information Retrieval (PAIR) system (a copy of the screen shot from the PAIR system being enclosed herewith), Applicant respectfully submits that the Patent Term Adjustment of 610 days as set forth in the PAIR system is incorrect and requests that the Patent Term Adjustment be corrected to indicate the PTA of 644 days for the reasons which follow.

Statement of Facts

In accordance with the instructions from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Applicant has checked the PAIR site, which indicates the PTA to be 610 days (based on 732 days of PTO delay, less 122 days of Applicant's delay) as noted on the enclosed copy of the screen shot from the PAIR site. However, the maximum number of days attributable to Applicants should be 88, not 122, days.

A non-final office action was mailed on June 7, 2002. A Response, together with a Request for Extension of Time for Three Months was submitted on December 6, 2002, resulting in a "delay" attributable to Applicants ("Applicant delay") of 88 days. A "courtesy copy" of the Response was faxed to the Examiner on January 7, 2003.

Applicant notes that the data in the PTA History has been reviewed and compared with the data in the records of the undersigned. In this regard, Applicants note that the amount of Applicant delay stated in the PAIR site appears to be incorrectly based on the facsimile date (January 7, 2003) of the courtesy copy of the Response to the Office Action of June 7, 2002. This is 122 days from the initial due date of September 9, 2002 (September 7, 2002 falling on a Saturday), the expiration of the shortened statutory period. However, the amount of days of Applicant delay should have been calculated based on the actual filing date of the Response and Extension of Time, i.e., December 6, 2002. Further, Applicant notes that the PTO delay is correctly listed as 732 days, based on the period from filing of the Notice of Appeal (April 27, 2004) to the mailing date of the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences reversing the Examiner. Accordingly, the actual PTA should be 732 days of delay by the Patent and Trademark Office, less 88 days of delay by Applicant, which results in 644 days of PTA.

Accordingly, Applicant respectfully requests that the PTA term be corrected to 644 days as opposed to the 610 days currently designated in the PAIR system.

Applicant notes that the above identified application is not subject to any terminal disclaimer.

A check including the amount of $200.00 to cover the fee set forth in 37 C.F.R. 1.18 (e) for filing an application for patent term adjustment is enclosed herewith. The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office is hereby authorized to credit any overpayment or charge any additional fee to Deposit Account No. 19-0089.

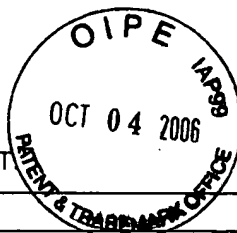

Respectfully submitted,
Andreas BLECKMANN
